Hancock County Forestry Day Held Friday

Ralph Robertson, Associate Extension Forester of Mississippi State University and D. E. Post, Hattiesburg, Woodland Conservation Service, were in charge of Hancock County Forestry Day held Friday at the Salvatore Cuevas farm located about two miles north of Kiln.

O. O. Swords, Hancock County Farm Agent, served as Master of Ceremonies. The demonstration was based on fire protection, tree planting and timberland improvement.

Mr. Swords and Marion Parker, Area Forester, marked timber on 125 acre plots to demonstrate the best methods to market forest products.

Plot One, 1/25 of an acre marked five, six inch trees averaging 190 of a cord of wood; three 10 inch trees, 537 and one 12 inch tree .266, totaling 993 of a cord at $5 per cord which amounted to $4.96 plus one pole at $1.10.

Plot Two, five six inch trees and one eight inch tree gave a total of .340 of a cord at $5 at a total of $1.70 plus one 14 inch tree 12 feet long at $1.44 plus 2 poles at a total of $6.64.

All above designated trees marked 1,021 cords to cut and 1,241 cords to be left standing. It was estimated that the average total to be cut per acre is $158.75.

Mr. Robertson pointed out that Hancock County had less fires in the past year than any other Coast county. He also stated that 4,000,000 pine seedlings had been planted in the past year and that in the past ten years Hancock County had increased its forestry practices, which includes fire protection, seedling planting and timber land improvement by 20%.

Mr. Robertson further stated that Hancock County sold approximately 1,000,000 of forest products in the past 12 months.

Mr. Cuevas said when he started to plant a plot 20 years ago he was told by a number of residents that it was a useless project, but it has paid off and today he is cutting 32 cords of paper wood per acre.

Mr. Swords quoted Mr. Cuevas as saying he attributed most of his success to his efforts towards fire protection and good maintenance.

A called meeting was held by the city council at the City Hall Thursday, at 7:30 p. m. to discuss proposed water, sewerage and drainage projects for the city.

William E. Johnson, consulting engineer of Jackson, Mississippi, who had been invited by the city council to attend, discussed the many features of construction as well as financing the proposed water and sewerage projects.

Mr. Johnson told the group the cost of the water improvement would be approximately $555,000 and the cost of the sewerage would be approximately $1,400,000.

According to Mr. Johnson, it was apparent that the City could not pay for the cost of both of these improvements. He suggested that the water improvements be made in its entirety and the town be divided into drainage districts, whereby a portion of the sewerage could be constructed piece meal, according to drainage districts.

Mayor Scaife told the group of the City's plan to hold a Sales Tax election on an additional 1/2 of 1% sales tax on June 7th.

This additional tax the mayor stated, should yield approximately $25,000, which would be pledged toward payment of principal and interest on the Revenue Bonds.

Mr. Johnson further suggested, since the matter of financing these projects had become involved and complicated, that the city obtain the services of a financial expert to assist in working out the various methods of financing.

The council agreed to arrange for a financial expert and suggested that another meeting be held with him for a further discussion of the matter.

Members of the newly formed Chamber of Commerce Committee on water, sewerage and drainage present at the meeting were Rev. Father Bauer and Rev. Father Lang of St. Augustine's Seminary, David Treutel, Mrs. Margaret Shadoin, A. G. Dantagnan, Lucien Kidd, Dave McDonald, Dr. Wesley McFarland, Mayor John A. Scaife, Commissioners J. Cyril Glover, and Warren Traub, Eddie Engstrom, Mrs. Mabel Green and a number of other representative individuals from the city.

Moreau, owner. The contract provides that the Jaycees will have 90 days in which to raise the down payment of $3,500.00, and the balance of $10,000.00 will either be carried by the Merchants Bank and Trust Company or Mrs. Moreau.

The Jaycees will raise the down payment by issuing building bonds in $25.00, $50.00, and $100.00 denominations, which bonds will be secured by a second mortgage and deed of trust on the building. Bonds are presently on sale and the Jaycees report that a number of bonds have already been sold. Move the lamp over this way a bit. Now let's put a blotter on the top of the desk to cut down on the glare.

Such planning and rearranging will help you provide plenty of light without glare, shadows and sharp contrasts in Johnny's or Mary's study center.

Good visibility in the study center makes for eye comfort and easier concentration on lessons.

To avoid shadows on written work, place the study lamp in front and to the left of a right-handed person; to the right of a left-hander. To protect the eyes from glare from the light bulb, have the bottom of the lamp shade about eye level when you are seated.

Glare may come from reflected light on a shiny surface. This is the reason for a blotter or other covering on a desk or study table with a glossy finish. If the desk is dark, a light colored blotter prevents the sharp contrast between the white pages or paper and the dark finish.

ANTS OR TERMITES?

Lots of us look at a winged ant and think it is a termite. But if we look a little closer at the body and wings we can tell in two easy ways for sure which is an ant and which is a termite.

Ants have a constructed or "pinched-in" waistline. Termites have thick waists. The rear pair of wings of an ant are considerably smaller than the front wings. There is a little difference in size between the front and rear wings of the termite.

SHRIMP THERMIDOR

1/2 pound cooked shrimp

1/2 cup sliced mushrooms

1/2 cup melted butter or other fat

1/4 flour

1/4 cup flour

1/2 teaspoon dry mustard

Dash cayenne pepper

2 cups milk

Paprika

Grated Parmesan cheese

1 teaspoon salt

If shrimp are large, cut in half

Cook mushrooms in butter for 5 minutes. Blend in flour and seasonings. Add milk gradually and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Stir in shrimp. Place in 6 well-greased shells or 2 ounce custard cups.

Sprinkle with cheese and paprika. Bake in a hot oven, 400 degrees, for 10 minutes or until cheese browns.

Dig, divide, and reset Shasta Dairy, aster, gallardia, violet chrysanthemum and lily.

If you get too much salt in the soup, cut up a raw potato and boil with the soup for a few minutes.

The bright sunny days of spring are welcome. We love the bright flowers, green grass and being able to get the vegetable garden planted and growing.

But... we begin to see the tion. But there are many other arms to the program, having names similar to the basic title.

In fact, Congressman Otto E. Passman, chairman of the appropriations subcommittee on foreign aid funds, lists some 22 categories of expenditures, including 7 separate lending institutions. He contends, further, that the foreign aid funds not carried in the Mutual Security Bill exceed those included in it.

Congressman Passman has furnished each member of Congress with a schedule of foreign aid funds available for expenditure during Fiscal Year 1960. These are the funds which are presently in the so-called foreign aid pipeline. He lists unexpended funds on June 30, 1959, at $4,837,708,750, new funds appropriated for Fiscal year 1960 at $3,225,813,000 and funds available from other sources, at $48 million, or a total of $8,111,521,750. He concludes from these figures that "the total foreign aid cost, including interest on what we have borrowed to give away, now exceeds ten billion dollars annually."

These are sobering figures. They bear out the cry of alarm over the effect of this continuing drain on our economy that some of us expressed eleven or so years ago. There is a limit beyond which we cannot go without destroying this last haven of refuge for freedom in the world—the United States of America.

We personally have long contended that the Kremlin masters have set out, following the mandate of their idol, Lenin, to destroy America by forcing it to spend itself into bankruptcy. Certainly with a public debt of some 250 billion dollars the time has long since come to stop, look and consider the future of this country as well as the future of the peoples of other countries.

CANCER SOCIETY
ANNOUNCES MILLION
CURED OF CANCER

In connection with its educational and fund-raising Crusade, the American Cancer Society has announced that there are one million Americans alive today who have been cured of cancer. Twenty years ago there were only 180,000.

But there is more to the story. The Society considers "cured" only those alive and without evidence of the disease five years following diagnosis and treatment. By this standard, it is estimated that an additional 60,000 cancer patients "disappeared" and "treated" within the last five years will live to enter the ranks of those cured. This means today that there are actually 1,600,000 men, women and children cured of cancer, although 600,000 will not formally be counted until five years from the time of treatment.

Twenty years ago, only one out of seven who developed cancer was saved. Ten years ago, it was one out of four. Today it is one out of three. It is estimated that 165,000 Americans will be saved from cancer this year.

This is good news indeed. But, unfortunately, there also is bad news.

The dark side of the picture shows that 85,000 men, women and children will die needlessly of cancer this year because their cancers will not be diagnosed in time and promptly treated. It is possible to save half of all those who develop cancer through early diagnosis and proper treatment.

But the good news in cancer control is not the result of accident. It has come about through cancer research and education.

More and more men and women are having annual health checkups as the best possible protection against cancer at the urging of the American Cancer Society.

Let us cut down on the bad news and increase the good news by supporting the 1960 Crusade of the American Cancer Society. Guard your family—Fight Cancer With a Checkup and a Check!

PROGRESS MADE ON FARM CROPS

Mississippi farmers have made some progress with plowing and planting. Much corn has been planted in South Mississippi, and spring grazing looks good there. Farmers throughout the state are showing much interest in chemical weed control for cotton, corn and pastures.

grayed woodwork in the house, the dull window panes and not-as-clean-as-we'd-like window curtains—we begin to think: "I've just got to do some spring cleaning."

Yes it's spring clean-up, fix-up, paint up time.

Be careful of fires. Do any burning of trash and brush around the yard and grounds on a wind-free, dampish day. Pick a spot away from buildings. Burn small amounts only and soak embers in water thoroughly when the burning is finished.

When you wash windows dry and polish them before the glass surfaces get dry. This means washing and then drying only several panes or a small area at a time before you go on to several more panes or a small area.

Crumpled newspaper does an excellent job of drying and polishing glass. But don't use a crumpled newspaper too long—use a fresh piece often.

When washing linoleum, use soap and warm water sparingly. If any water gets under the linoleum it tends to rot it.

HAM COOKED OR TO COOK

If you're buying a ham you have a choice between two kinds—one fully cooked and one you will cook. On most any ham you buy you will find one of these labels. Fully cooked or Cook Before Eating. Packers have standardized this labeling, to replace confusing terms like ready-to-eat, tender-ready, to serve or cook-before-serving.

You can serve fully cooked hams cold without further cooking. Or, if you prefer, you can reheat the ham. Canned hams are fully cooked.

Read the label on cook-before-eating ham. You want to be sure all pork is thoroughly cooked before it is eaten.

Be sure to read the label on canned hams. If the ham has not been heated to a high enough internal temperature for safe room temperature storage, labels on Federal inspected hams must have these words: "Perishable—Keep Under Refrigeration."

If you don't find a statement on refrigeration on a canned ham, it is safe to store it in a cool, dry place as you store other canned foods.

CRANBERRY FLUFF

Whip together 1 pound jellied cranberry sauce, 2 tablespoons sugar and one tablespoon grated orange rind. Fold in whipped cream that has been lightly flavored with almond extract. Pour into refrigerator trays and freeze until firm. Remove from freezer and beat until "fluffy." Return to freezer until serving time. Garnish with a rosette of whipped cream if desired.

Kuntcha Ketchum

Soft shell crabbing has topped fishing the past week. Out in the bay at night its lit up like a Christmas tree and crabs are even shading in the afternoon. The crabs have been popping out like pop corn. The lake has been so crowded, a traffic cop is needed.

Mike and Allen Lang have been getting their share of crabs. But remember fellows leave some little one for seed.

Teddy Stechmann and the family were out over the weekend.

John Damborino caught some crabs and stuck a large flounder in the bargain.

SJA School Paper Gets Honorable Mention

THE SEA SPRITE, St. Joseph's Academy school paper, received honorable mention for general excellence in the 1960 Mississippi Scholastic Press Association awards.

The awards were announced at University, Miss., Saturday at the closing session of the 14th annual Mississippi Press Institute.

CONGRESSIONAL SIDELIGHTS

The first 4 months of this session of Congress were devoted almost solely to courting minority bloc votes, and there is every indication that politics will continue to hold sway during the 10 weeks still remaining before adjournment for the party conventions. This is not surprising in a Presidential election year, especially when one recalls that the Executive and the Legislative branches of government are controlled by different parties. The days of cutting the cloth of legislation to the soil of what the President might approve are gone. None of President Eisenhower's vetoes has been overridden but the Democratic argument is that the important thing now is to make a record and that forcing a veto is one way of dramatizing the issues that may determine who will win in November.

Most of these issues affect the pocketbook of the voter either as a beneficiary or a taxpayer. The more important are:

Hospital insurance to insure pensioners against the cost of hospital, surgical and nursing care. The Forand Bill would have made 15 million people eligible this year, have cost from $1 to $2 billion the first year and $6 or $7 billion by 1980, have been supported by raising the Social Security taxes paid by employers and workers from 3% to 3 1/4% each on the first $4,800 of income. It would not have covered the 4 1/2 million good people not under Social Security. It was turned down by the House Ways and Means Committee but may be revived in some more moderate form.

School aid—The Senate voted

$1.8 billion for a two-year plan to finance school construction and increase the pay of teachers. The bill reported House calls for spending $1.8 billion a year for 3 years. The danger of Federal control is suggested that states practicing segregation would receive nothing.

Depressed areas aid—The Senate passed bill provided $300 million in Federal aid for chronically depressed areas. The House bill provided $251 million.

Housing—An additional billion dollars to stimulate home construction.

Minimum wage—An increase in the minimum wage from $1 to $1.25 an hour and increased coverage, doing away, for example, with seafood exemptions and those of small logging operations. The Administration favors increased coverage, and Secretary of Labor Mitchell has recommended a wage increase to $1.15 instead of $1.25.

All of these are highly controversial issues, benefitting some citizens and hitting the pocketbook of others, aiding some areas at the expense of others, threatening to unbalance the precariously balanced budget. The outcome of the battle over them will no doubt have great bearing on who will be President of the United States after January 20, 1961.

"Third Man On The Mountain" To Play At Star Theatre May 1-2

Michael Rennie and James MacArthur got all they bargained for and more when they jumped from a helicopter onto Switzerland's Gormer glacier. They had been told the locations for Walt Disney's "Third Man on the Mountain" would be dangerous; they eventually found out for themselves. "Third Man on the Mountain" is playing at the Star Theatre May 1 and 2.

The spot which director Ken Annakin had chosen to film a sequence depicting Rennie's rescue from a deep crevasse was along a fissure splitting the glacier northwest of Monte Rosa, Switzerland's highest peak. Here the ice was wrinkled and ravaged and crisscrossed with crevasses, some hidden beneath a light carpet of snow.

"Stay in the area and be careful where you walk," warned Annakin. "A fall through a snow bridge is always serious."

Rennie and MacArthur had been briefed by veteran Alpine guides for Operation Ice Ledge. It began at dawn when nine pack mules set forth from Zermatt and climbed a mountain trail to Rotenboden, altitude 6,200 feet. At Rotenboden they were loaded with lunch baskets, camera equipment and other essentials for filming. They then began a two hour walk to the glacier.

The Disney adventure drama, in color by Technicolor, stars Rennie and MacArthur with Janet Munro, James Donald, Herbert Lom and Laurence Naismith. Buena Vista releases.

The bodice featured a Sabrina neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. Her only jewelry was a cross and chain, a gift of the groom.

Her finger-tip veil of illusion was attached to a small crown of pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

Miss Jeannette Monti, was her sister's maid of honor; bridesmaids were another sister, Miss Faye Monti, Miss Judy Hirstius, and Miss Genie Faust. The bride's cousin, Terry Monti, was flower girl.

"Embezzled Heaven" To Play At A&G Theatre May 1st.

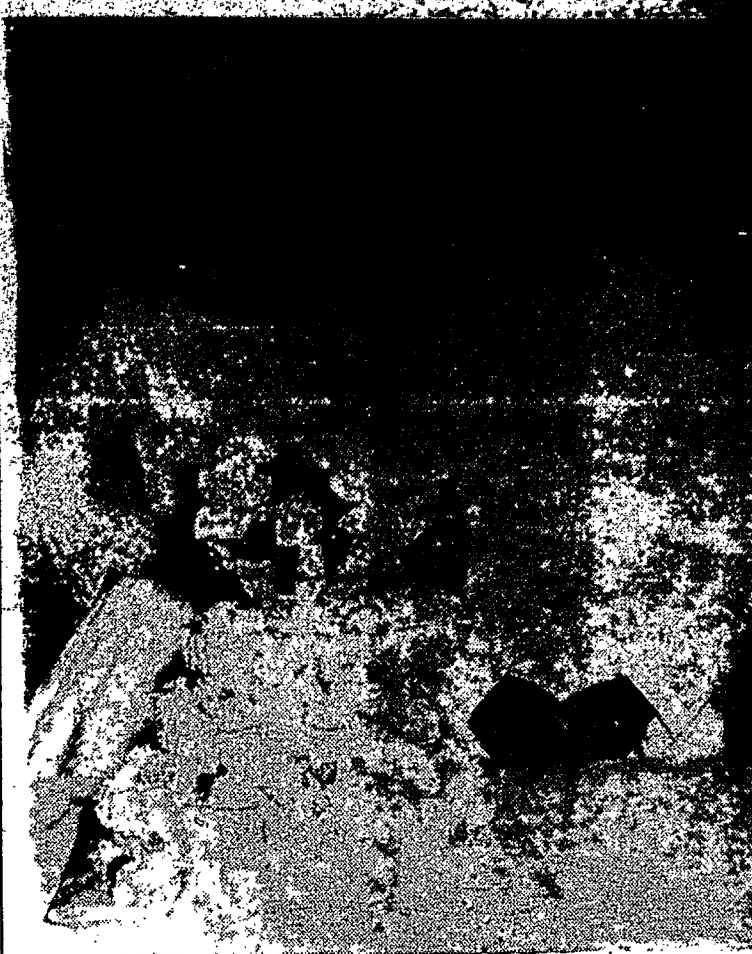

The gates of St. Peter are open to you! With these portentous words a Vatican dignitary last May informed Austrian director Ernst Marischka that Pope Pius XII, for the first time in the history of the Papacy, had approved the shooting (in color) of a full-length dramatic film, "Embezzled Heaven," in which the Pope would appear as an integral part of the plot. The film will have its local premiere at the A & G Theatre on May 1st.

In addition to being allowed to photograph his actors in the Vatican's splendid Apostolic Rooms of the Pope, Marischka obtained permission to film an entire Papal Audience in St. Peter's with the story's leading characters standing immediately behind the front row bench seating the cardinals and bishops.

This could easily have been the opening gun in the Pope's encyclical, "Miranda Probus," recommending positive rather than negative action in the approach of the Catholic Church toward motion pictures. The encyclical has since been enforced by the recent "Bona Pastoris" letter of Pope John XXIII and the announcement from the Vatican that the post of president of the Pontifical Commission for Motion Pictures, Radio and Television had become part of the Church's highest administrative office, the Vatican Secretariat of State.

"Embezzled Heaven," adapted from the best-selling novel by Franz Werfel, was made by Rhombus Productions, UFA on locations in Vienna and Rome and is being released here by Louis de Rochemont Associates. It joins the Academy Award-winning "Song of Bernadette," and "Me and the Colonel" (from the hit play, "Jacobowsky and the Colonel") in Werfel's gallery of successful films based on the lives of real people. The leading character, Teta Linek, played by Annie Rogers, was actually a cook who worked for his wife, Alma Mahler Werfel. Ethel Barrymore portrayed the role on the New York stage in 1944.

Ladner-Garcia

Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church was the scene Saturday morning of the wedding of Miss Jeanette Marie Garcia and Mr. Marvin William Ladner.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Garcia of Bayou La Croix Community; parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Prine Ladner of Bayou LaCroix.

Rev. Father Kevin Reid, celebrated the Nuptial Mass and a program of nuptial music was presented by Professor Joseph Hamersbach.

Palms and baskets of white mums and gladioli decorated the church and altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta designed with a bouffant skirt. The bodice featured a round neckline re-embroidered with sequins and pearls and long sleeves ending in a point over the hand.

A small tiara of sequins and pearls held her finger tip veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds.

Miss Norma Garcia, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and the bridegroom's sister, Miss Gloria Ladner was a bridesmaid.

They wore identical floor length gowns of orchid organza over taffeta fashioned with full skirts; the bodice, with a round neckline forming a point in the back, had brief sleeves. They wore small hats of the same material trimmed with a taffeta bow. Miss Garcia carried a bouquet of white carnations and pink rosebuds and Miss Ladner's bouquet was of pink carnations.

Mr. Claiborne Ladner of Bay St. Louis served as his nephew's best man, and Kenneth Fuchich was groomsmen.

A reception followed at the Lakeshore Civic Hall.

The bride's table, covered with a white linen cloth, was centered with a three-tiered cake and arrangements of calla lilies completed the decoration.

Mrs. Garcia chose for her daughter's wedding a navy blue faille suit, white accessories, navy hat and a pink carnation corsage.

The mother of the groom wore a sheer print, white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

For traveling the bride chose a green linen suit, beige accessories and a corsage of white iris.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Florida the couple will make their home at Star Route Farm, Bayou La Croix.

The bride, a graduate of Kiln High School, was employed with an Insurance Company in New Orleans.

Mr. Ladner, graduate of Kiln High, is employed by the Coast Electric Power Association.
